Long ago in the mists of time an injustice was done to the Lord Zeus by Aiolus the Lord of the Winds. He stole a golden apple and being discovered was cursed with forgetfulness by Zeus and sent to earth. You are Aiolus. If you can simply remember your identity and your crime you may be able to attone. It is said that in the Halls of Hades there lies the pool of rememberance. Thus it is your task to drink from this pool if it exists and put right your wrongs.
