Dear Customer,

We have pleasure in enclosing your copy of PRO-PUNTER and trust that you will have much success with it.

We would like to take this opportunity to offer you some important advice:

Firstly, remember that PRO-PUNTER was primarily designed as an adviser whose advice should be taken. Whilst we are proud of the all-inclusive strike-rate we have achieved during trials and proofing to the racing press you should bear in mind that the best returns are achieved by following the advice given. "NO BET" should really mean just that if the software is going to do its best for you. It should also be borne in mind that we are experienced race-readers and have much experience in using the software. It may take you a period of some months to emulate our all-inclusive top-rated percentages simply because it may not be apparent which races are best analysed. Stick with the investment advice and you should not go wrong.

The second piece of advice is connected with the first: be prepared to persevere as investment advice may at times be thin on the ground. A poor temperament is your worst enemy; PRO-PUNTER'S temperament is excellent. Start to ignore the "NO-BET" advice in the process of searching for good investments and you may start to reduce your returns.

Later, and once you are familiar with using the software and race selection, you may feel confident enough to invest more freely and experiment with different investment methods as outlined in the accompanying manual. We feel however that you will find it very hard to match "advice-only" returns.

Thirdly, it is a good idea to keep a record of the software's performance which will help you when deciding on races to process and will help us if you find you need further guidance. We have, for example, found the software particularly adept in analysing handicap chases and confine nearly all our winter investment to that type of race.

Finally, our thanks for your interest in this development: we will of course give you preferential treatment as further versions of this product are made available. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you require any assistance, and we would in any case be delighted to hear of your progress with PRO-PUNTER.

Regards
